COUNTERING ISLAMIC TERRORISM
The United States is facing what is arguably the most concentrated period of terrorist activity in the homeland since 9/11. The perpetrators are primarily a makeup of those supportive or have pledged allegiance to ISIS. As ISIS continues soliciting support for its radical cause within our borders and around the world, the United States must strengthen its counterterrorism readiness.

EMERGING ISSUE #2: COLLUSION V. CONFLICT
Through acts of fiscal malpractice, the United States is over $19 trillion in debt—and that figure is rapidly climbing. However, we didn't arrive at this point overnight... Rather than embracing conflict and holding to fiscal sanity, a perpetual "go along to get along" mentality has led the country to financial instability. We must stem the tide before it's too late.
- Paul Winfree
Director, Thomas A. Roe Institute for Economic Policy Studies and Richard F. Aster Fellow The Heritage Foundation
- 2:00 – 2:15 p.m. BREAK

SEEKING SAFETY IN THE CYBER WORLD

Almost everything in our society revolves around a digital platform. But through our major technological advances come vulnerabilities that place the security of our nation at risk. How are we to address cybersecurity, internet privacy versus information sharing and privacy in our country? In addition, there are those advocating for the United States to surrender its oversight of the internet, leaving many to wonder how such a transition will impact the nation.

EMERGING ISSUE #4:

THE ECONOMICS OF ENERGY AND CLIMATE SCIENCE

Most Americans want low cost energy, while maintaining a healthy environment. However, people take energy for granted without any appreciation for the work it takes to produce this resource. Now "protecting" the environment has become synonymous with the 'climate change' debate, ignoring how these two facets interact with market forces.

EMERGING ISSUE #5: SUPREME COURT PREVIEW

Important cases await the Supreme Court when they return in the fall. With only eight justices, the balance of the judicial branch is in jeopardy, leaving many to deliberate on the various outcomes conservatives may encounter leading into 2017. This session will discuss actual cases with wit to be decided by the Supreme Court.
